

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

In fact the rules are already anit-democratic in that the "news" represents the interests of the corporate nation, and not the American people. To give more to those that have more is to take from those that have so little.